Neutrons and food workshop: Wednesday highlights

'Smart foods' is the topic on the final day of the Neutrons and Food workshop being held here in Sydney today. Dozens of the world's top experts in the atomic make-up of food are in town to attend the workshop which is hosted by the Australian Nuclear Science and Technology Organisation (ANSTO) from 31 October to 3 November.

Wednesday highlights include:

- Digestion and metabolic processes – how smart foods can benefit health
- How research into starch can benefit health. Dr J Blazek (Bragg Institute, ANSTO).
- Open session – where to from here?

The Neutrons and Food workshop is being held at the Amora Hotel, Jamison Street, Sydney.
