9TH VACUUM AND SURFACE SCIENCE CONFERENCE OF ASIA AND AUSTRALIA

ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

This biennial conference aims to bring together industry, education, development and research in vacuum science and technology within the Asian, Pacific and Indian Ocean regions. It is a conference of the vacuum societies of Australia, China, India, Iran, Japan, Korea, Pakistan, and Taiwan. VASSCAA-9 is one of the main conferences supported by the International Union of Vacuum Science, Techniques and Application (IUVSTA)."

The conference, which will run through National Science Week and the Sydney Science Festival, will introduce to the general public this enabling technology through a series of high-profile public events highlighting its importance to everyday life and future technologies and to the exciting science that drives its development. The first event is scheduled on the Sunday afternoon at the Powerhouse Museum and will be advertised to the general public from April onwards.
