

CUSTOMER STATEMENT

30th August 2018

ANSTO has continued to import Tc-99m generators for our Australian customers whilst we restore full local production. Each week ANSTO has sent bulk Mo-99 from ANSTO to our partners in the US to be put into generators and sent back to Australia for distribution to hospitals and clinics.

The amount of Mo-99 shipped to our partners this week was reduced due to the scheduled maintenance shutdown of the OPAL multipurpose reactor.

This reduction on the amount of bulk Mo-99 will affect generator supply for next week only. ANSTO will continue to work with ANZSNM, AANMS and RAINS to ensure the available supply of Tc-99m generators goes to those most in need.

ANSTO will distribute 26 generators on Monday and a further 82 on Wednesday. This equates to approximately 30% of market requirements Mon- Wed and approximately 60% of market requirements for the remainder of the week.

ANSTO apologises sincerely to those customers who will be impacted
